

Gemini

Gemini is here for a wild ride. If you're born under this sign, you'll often find yourself searching for new experiences and relationships that invite adventure. Gemini's spontaneous and fierce energy attracts admiration from both their tribe and lovers.

Associated with the air element, just like the wind, they are constantly craving change. We all need a little breathing room, and for this sign, it's essential. Ruled by Mercury, the planet of communication, Gemini has a strong curiosity and quick wit. These social butterflies will have you flying in and out of deep conversation with their dynamic dialogue. And Gemini loves to play off the energy of a kindred spirit. The question is... can you keep up lover?
